The market value of the holding may differ. The portfolio is actively managed, and current holdings may be different.

TRAILING 3 YR RISK MEASURES VS. BENCHMARK (A1USD)

Beta	0.85
Standard Deviation	22.87 vs 26.51

Beta is a measure of the volatility of a portfolio relative to the overall market. A beta less than 1.0 indicates lower risk than the market; a beta greater than 1.0 indicates higher risk than the market. It is most reliable as a risk measure when the return fluctuations of the portfolio are highly correlated with the return fluctuations of the index chosen to represent the market.

Standard deviation is an indicator of the portfolio's total return volatility, which is based on a minimum of 36 monthly returns. The larger the portfolio's standard deviation, the greater the portfolio's volatility.

RISK AND REWARD PROFILE CLASS A1USD

< Lower risk (typically lower rewards) Higher risk (typically higher rewards) >

1	2	3	4	5	6	7
---	---	---	---	---	---	---

The rating is based on past volatility of returns and may be different in the future or for other classes of the fund.

Performance results reflect ongoing charges and any applicable expense subsidies and waivers in effect during the periods shown. All historic results assume the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains.

Past performance is not a reliable indicator for future results. All financial investments involve an element of risk. The value of investments may rise and fall so you may get back less than originally invested.

Investors should consider the risks, including lower returns, related to currency movements between their investing currency and the fund's base currency, if different.

See the fund's offering documents for more details, including information on fund risks and expenses.

The fund may not achieve its objective and/or you could lose money on your investment in the fund. Stock markets and investments in individual stocks are volatile and can decline significantly in response to issuer, market, economic, industry, political, regulatory, geopolitical, and other conditions. Emerging markets can have less market structure, depth, and regulatory, custodial or operational oversight and greater political, social, and economic instability than developed markets. Because the portfolio may invest a substantial amount of its assets in issuers located in a single country or in a limited number of countries, it may be more volatile than a portfolio that is more geographically diversified.

Please see the prospectus for further information on these and other risk considerations.
